ROOSEVELT DENIES HE REFUSED TO CO-OPERATE; EXPRESSES SURPRISE AT HOOVER STATEMENT

'CHEAP PUBLICITY' CHARGE IS HURLED AT N. J. GOVERNOR

Lindbergh Tragedy 'Possible' Under Such Circumstances, Russell Says; 'Fugitive' Novel Branded as False.

FULLER REFUSAL CITED PRECEDENT

Russell Asserts His Declining to Return New Yorker Was Based on Different Grounds.

The limelight which has shone about Robert Elliott Burns, the chain gang fugitive, Thursday shifted to his benefactor, Governor A. Harry Moore, of New Jersey. Burns, himself, could not be located, though he was said to be somewhere in or near Newark.

Governor Moore was the center of a series of verbal attacks by Georgia's officialdom, particularly Governor Richard B. Russell Jr., whose plea for Burns' extradition he denied Wednesday, but he waved all of these aside with the declaration, "I wish the governor of Georgia a very merry Christmas and a happy New Year, and respectfully refer him to the Fuller case," and then read a large number of messages congratulating him on freeing Burns.

Statements attacking the decision of Governor Moore were issued by Governor Russell, Attorney-General Lawrence Camp and the Georgia prison commission, the governor in a second statement explaining the Fuller case, one in which he refused to grant extradition of a former federal prisoner, holding that the man's extradition was being sought in an effort to collect a civil judgment which had been rendered against him.

Cites Lindbergh Case.

Governor Russell began the series of statements with a strong attack on the decision of Governor Moore, claiming it with this assertion:

"This decision makes it easy to understand how the most horrible crime of modern times, the kidnapping and murder of the Lindbergh baby, which shocked the entire world, could occur and go unpunished in a state whose governor has such ideas of law and the properties as are manifested by the judgment of this case."

Attorney-General Camp's statement said the refusal to return Burns was without precedent, adding that "the action of the governor of New Jersey is legally important only in that it was a direct violation of the provisions of the constitution of the United States."

The prison commission's statement, issued through Chairman E. L. Rainey, was equally strong, charging that the decision of Governor Moore was "an outrage and an unwarranted exercise of the power temporarily lodged in him."

Attorney-General Camp Thursday also made public an affidavit sworn to by George Davis, of New Brunswick, N. J., who a few days ago completed a chain gang sentence which

IT'S RESULTS THAT COUNT

And Constitution, want ads DO get results. Folks who read The Constitution soon form the habit of reading want ads, because they invariably find some item, some bargain or business opportunity that fits in precisely with their needs.

Everyone gathers in the want ad pages with something to buy, sell or exchange; that's why Constitution want ads are so-getters.

Leaders Plan to Arrest Absent House Members

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The democratic leadership of the house has decided to order the arrest of members absent from next Tuesday's session in the event that a quorum is not present upon reconvening after the Christmas holidays.

BINGHAM MOVES FOR BEER ACTION IN SENATE TODAY

Borah Denounces Measure While Norris Approves Plan and Says Bill Will Be Passed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A sudden move to bring the house 3.2 per cent beer bill up for action in the senate tomorrow topped off a series of swift-moving developments today, including a denunciation of the measure by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, who asserted it was unconstitutional.

Senator Bingham, Connecticut republican, and long-time beer advocate, announced to the senate he would move to consider the bill tomorrow, but meanwhile democratic leaders agreed in conference to send the bill through the usual committee routine, but act upon it independently of other tax legislation.

Sharp warning that a fierce fight on the bill is in the offing came from Senator Borah.

"We are betraying the constitution for 30 pieces of silver," he said, and contended that 3.2 per cent beer was the alcoholic content of intoxicating beer prior to prohibition.

Chairman Norris, of the judiciary committee to which the bill was referred when it reached the senate at noon, took a conflicting view. Norris, long a supporter of prohibition who now favors legalization of beer, said the bill was constitutional and was a "fair compromise."

He announced that the judiciary committee would meet Monday to begin consideration of the measure, but thought it possible a quorum could not be rounded up at that time, in which case he said it would go over until after the Christmas recess.

The Nebraskaan said he saw no reason at present for hearings on the beer measure, but pointed to a standard.

Appointment Reports Scored by Talmadge

Governor-elect Eugene Talmadge, in a written statement issued Thursday, asserted that newspaper publicity in connection with appointments he may make after his inauguration is speculative, adding that when he appoints he will do it in writing and hand it to the press.

His statement follows:

In reference to the newspaper publicity designating different persons for different offices that I have to appoint, and naming their salaries, I have this to say:

The newspapers evidently know more about my appointments than I do myself. When I definitely decide on an appointment I will give the news to the press over my signature. "If anyone else assumes to do this for me, it has no bearing whatever."

ROOSEVELT TAKES PART IN FRAMING FARM RELIEF PLAN

Democrats Seek Broad Program to Lighten Mortgage Burdens of American Farmers.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—President-elect Roosevelt took a hand today in working out with democratic leaders in congress a far-reaching program of relief of mortgage-burdened farmers looking toward legislation at this session.

A dozen proposals for relieving the agricultural credit situation, promised by Governor Roosevelt in his campaign, were discussed at a conference of house and senate party leaders with spokesmen for the farm organizations and representatives of the incoming president.

Although no concrete program was determined upon, the conferees agreed to draft the various proposals into bill form for further consideration after the Christmas recess.

The suggestions ranged from creation of a debt commission to arrange voluntary reduction of farm mortgages to deferment of payments for a limited period.

Other Legislation.

Meanwhile farm relief legislation moved forward in both sides of the capitol.

As the house agriculture committee continued its efforts to draft an emergency measure along the lines of the domestic allotment plan, Speaker Garner said the house would take up the farm question early in January.

The senate approved a bill by Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina, for crop production loans in 1933 from an unexpended balance of about $100,000,000 set aside last session.

W. Simmons, clerk of court.

To Wed Georgia Educator

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Martha Hardy (above), daughter of Dr. John Crumpton Hardy, president of Baylor College for Women, at Belton, Texas, to marry Dr. Dice R. Anderson, president of Wesleyan College, at Macon. The wedding will take place at noon Saturday in Belton.

CHARLES R. CRISP QUILTS TARIFF BODY

Former Solon Will Represent Sugar Company in Washington.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Former Representative Charles R. Crisp, of Georgia, today resigned as a member of the federal tariff commission and announced that beginning with the first of the year he would enter private law practice in Washington as special legislative counsel for the Savannah Sugar Refining Corporation and associate companies.

While the democrats were meeting, the senate banking committee was listening to arguments by Senator Frazier, republican, North Dakota, favoring his bill to reduce farmers' debts at 1-1-2 per cent interest.

Henry Morgenthau Jr., New York state conservation commissioner and advisor of President-elect Roosevelt, was his representative at the democratic conference, along with Professor Myers, of Cornell University.

PARIS GOLD STOCK DWARF'S ARREARS

French Holdings Set by Federal Reserve Board at $3,266,000,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—French gold reserves totaling more than 170 times the defaulted war debt payment were reported today by the federal reserve board.

Noting a gain of $25,000,000 in the month preceding November 18, the board placed France's holdings on that date at $3,266,000,000. The war debts payment was $19,261,432.

FIRST TEST FIGHT IN CHAMBER WON BY PAUL-BONCOUR

Government's Margin Is Only 150 Votes as It Presents Non-Commitment Debt Program.

PARIS, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The chamber of deputies, by 365 to 215, tonight voted confidence in the Paul-Boncour government on a ministerial declaration which included, as the debt policy of the new government, continuing negotiations with the United States in an effort to settle the debt problem, though warning that "prudence" was necessary in view of the present political situation in America.

The vote came after six hours of debate during which Premier Joseph Paul-Boncour stressed the necessity of bringing into harmony the viewpoints of France and the United States.

It was a closer vote than former Premier Edouard Herriot usually obtained before his defeat on the debt payment to the United States.

M. Paul-Boncour during his ministerial declaration gave a clear implication that, while it was essential that negotiations be continued, it was advisable to proceed cautiously until the new administration is in power in Washington.

Traces Main Lines.

He also indicated clearly that he regarded that the main lines of the negotiations, so far as France is concerned, were laid down by the chamber in its recent vote on the debts. (The chamber voted against payment of the interest payment due December 15 unless the United States first agreed to confer about revision.)

The premier promised in his declaration to concentrate all his efforts to the work of achieving "general settlement of the war debts question."

With the same frankness as well as the complexity of the present political situation in the United States, he urged the United States to extreme prudence the negotiations whose orientation was traced out by the

TAXES EXTENSION RULING IS SOUGHT

Harrison Asks Camp to Decide on Fi. Fas., Interest Payments.

Attorney-General Lawrence Camp Thursday was asked to rule whether or not county tax collectors may extend payment of state and county taxes until December 31, without payment of fin. fas. and interest charges.

The opinion was asked by Comptroller-General William B. Harrison after a number of collectors had informed him that they saw notices in Atlanta newspapers that Fulton county was granting an extension until December 31, Penalty and interest are supposed to be added from December 20 on.

HOOVER DECLARES ROOSEVELT STAND ENDS DEBT PLAN

President Releases Correspondence and Says Governor "Considers Co-operation Undesirable."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The clashing convictions of Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt today caused abrupt and final abandonment of the administration's plan for a commission to deal with war debt and allied problems.

The president-elect—by his own request—will be left untrammelled to proceed as he sees fit after next March 4 in solving the related questions surrounding war debts, disarmament and the world economic conference.

These were disclosures that today accompanied the White House release of four telegrams between the president and his successor, outlining Mr. Hoover's plan for a jointly created commission and Mr. Roosevelt's statement that he could not accept "an apparent joint responsibility" for such a plan.

With the discussions between the two terminated, it became apparent in the capital tonight that the problems which accompanied the release of the telegrams to the next administration in much their present form.

Creation Useless.

Despite Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion that the president proceed with an examination of the war debt and related problems, without pledging the next administration to action, Mr. Hoover feels that the creation of a commission would be useless unless it could continue active after March 4.

The president-elect declined also to accede to the chief executive's hitherto undisclosed suggestion that Owen D. Young, Colonel E. M. House or another prominent democrat be named to "sit with the principal officers of this administration in endeavor to see what steps can be taken to speed the work of exploration."

Mr. Roosevelt replied, "might well be construed by the debtor of other nations, collectively or individually, as a commitment—moral even though not legal—on the part of the United States."

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 22.—(AP)—President-elect Roosevelt said in a statement issued tonight through Supreme Court Justice Samuel I. Rosenman, his former counsel, that he was "rather surprised" at the statement issued at the White House today to the effect that he had found it "undesirable" to assent to co-operative action with President Hoover on foreign problems.

Mr. Roosevelt's statement, as dictated to the Associated Press over the telephone by Justice Rosenman, follows:

"I am rather surprised at the White House statement issued this afternoon. It is a pity not only for this country but for the solution of world problems that any statement or intimation should be given that I consider it undesirable to assent to co-operative action on foreign problems."

"I have made it to the president the definite suggestion that he select his representatives to make preliminary studies. I have asked to be kept advised as to the progress of these preliminaries. I have offered to consult with the president freely between now and March 4."

The statement was the first Mr. Roosevelt has made publicly concerning his attitude toward President Hoover's recent suggestion to congress for co-operation between the president-elect and the president toward formation of a commission to deal with war debt, economic problems and disarmament.

Mr. Roosevelt's comment referred to the brief statement from Mr. Hoover which accompanied the release of Washington today of correspondence between the president and his successor-elect on the Hoover proposals.

In this statement Mr. Hoover said: "Governor Roosevelt considers that it is undesirable for him to assent to my suggestions for co-operative action."

New Machine May Revolutionize Philippines Coconut Oil Industry

MANILA, Philippine Islands, Dec. 22.—(P)—The possibility that the tropical industry of preparing coconuts for exportation may be revolutionized was advanced by University of the Philippines scientists as new processes and machinery were demonstrated to government officials and members of the legislature here. Both the machine and the process are simple, it was said, requiring but two men while other devices have required as many as 22 operatives. Refining plants like those in the United States were declared to be made unnecessary, and it was claimed by the scientists that the oil extracted and the cake residue are superior in quality and keeping qualities to that now obtained by expensive processes after the copra, or dried coconut meat, is transported from the south seas to America and Europe.

A number of university scientists, including Dr. Amando Clemente and Dr. Louis Gonzaga, chemists, had a hand in the development of the process and of a special machine to remove fibres from the meat of the nut designed by Fred W. Bohler. The coconut growing industry in the Philippines is exceeded in importance only by the production of sugar and of abaca, a variety of hemp. On nearly all of the 7,000 islands of the archipelago and in hundreds of others in the south seas and other parts of the tropics, coconuts are harvested from the tall palm trees two to four times a year. The nuts are then broken open, dried in the sun for several days until the meat is separated from the husks and then shipped in bags to local or American or European refineries, where the oil is extracted for use in soap and other products. Under the new process the meat is extracted from the husks by various means, such as hot water or the sun's rays. In from 30 minutes to a few hours, and reduced to a grated condition in one of a number of existing machines. Next it is put through a roller mill where steam is injected and the milk or gata, pressed out. Then it goes through a centrifugal rotation arrangement to separate the oil from the water and solid constituents of the milk, and finally filtered.

Mrs. Arbella Pollister Passes in Fort Myers

FORT MYERS, Fla., Dec. 22.—(P)—Mrs. Arbella F. Pollister, who as an official telegrapher tapped out the casualty lists of the Union army in the War Between the States, died at her winter home here today. Her nimble fingers also whipped out through the sender's key the news of President Abraham Lincoln's as-assassination in Washington. Frequently she worked on the same wire with Thomas A. Edison, inventor of the electric light. Edison, who also maintained a winter home here, was visited by Mrs. Pollister a year before his death. They renewed recollections of the telegraph profession as it was when they were members. Mrs. Pollister, who was born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, is survived by a daughter and a son. The son, Edward B. Pollister, is head of an engine manufacturing company in St. Louis. Mrs. Pollister's northern home was in Portland, Me. She was 86 years old. Funeral services will be held here tomorrow morning and the body will be cremated.

A. F. WURM, 83, NOTED AS MUSICIAN, IS DEAD
A. F. Wurm, 83, one of Atlanta's best known musicians, died Thursday at his home, 187 Pine street, N. E. Mr. Wurm had been in feeble health for some time, and was taken seriously ill several days ago. He was the eldest child of Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Wurm, born in Philadelphia in 1849. His parents brought him south as a baby, and for years the family resided in LaGrange and Athens, coming to Atlanta in 1871. Mr. Wurm was a great reader, and student of history, and was an expert chess player. Mr. Wurm is survived by a sister, Miss Lillie Wurm, and two brothers, Charles F. Wurm and F. A. Wurm, of San Francisco. Funeral arrangements are in charge of H. M. Patterson & Sons.

5 POLICEMEN HURT IN GLASGOW RIOTING
GLASGOW, Scotland, Dec. 22.—(P)—Christmas shoppers hurried to places of safety today when a riot developed as several thousand persons were marching through the city in an unemployment demonstration. Five policemen were injured, two of them seriously. The demonstrators started their march after seven labor members of the city council had been suspended from the council as the result of a dispute over whether to receive a deputation from the jobless.

The Merry Xmas Sauce

MAKE your Cranberry Sauce this "10 Minute" way.
It's delicious! Quick. Make plenty — so you can serve a side dish to each person.

"10-Minute" Cranberry Sauce (Stewed Cranberries)

Boil 2 cups of water and 1½ to 2 cups of sugar together 5 minutes, then add 4 cups Eatmor Cranberries. Boil without stirring (5 minutes is usually sufficient) until all the skins pop open. Remove from fire when the popping stops, and allow the sauce to remain in vessel undisturbed until cool.

We will gladly mail to you free our new Eatmor Cranberry recipe book.

DR. R. D. HARDAWAY, PHYSICIAN, PASSES

East Point Services, Interment in Luthersville Saturday.

Dr. R. D. Hardaway, 54, city physician for East Point for the last five years, died Thursday at his home, 417 Thompson street, after an illness of six weeks.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning from the First Methodist church in East Point. The body will be taken to Luthersville for interment.

Dr. Hardaway, a native of Luthersville, came to Atlanta seven years ago and engaged in private practice. He was appointed city physician two years later. He was a member of the First Methodist church and the East Point Masonic lodge.

Surviving are: his wife, Mrs. Mattie Belle Hardaway; two daughters, Miss Lydia Hardaway, and Mrs. R. M. McDuffie, the latter passport clerk in the office of the clerk of Fulton superior court; four sisters, Mrs. D. W. Boone, Mrs. Robert Lovejoy, Mrs. Malise Hardaway and Mrs. Cook, all of Newnan; and four brothers, Burch, Hiram and Grover, of Luthersville, and Kiser Hardaway, of Leesburg, Florida.

TWO VISITING STAFFS ARE MERGED AT GRADY
Visiting staffs of the white and negro units of Grady hospital have merged, it was announced Thursday by John B. Franklin, superintendent of the institution.

A special feature is the kindling of the Chanukkah lights in lobbies and halls of the centers and in Jewish homes. The festival commemorates the successful struggle for religious liberty on the part of the Maccabees against their Syrian oppressors, culminating in the recapture of Jerusalem and the rededication of the holy temple over 2,000 years ago.

Franklin announced that the consolidation is an important cog in the reorganization plan, and will increase harmony and understanding. Staffs already have approved it and the trustees also have sanctioned the move.

The first joint meeting of the two staffs is slated for the second Tuesday in January.

Yorkshire Pudding—Two eggs, 1 cup of milk, 1 cup sifted flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Mix dry ingredients, add milk gradually to make smooth paste, then add eggs very lightly and fluffy beaten. About half hour before meat is done, pour the batter into the dripping pan below the rack, allowing the meat juices to drip over the batter. Cut in small squares and serve piled on platter around meat.

Roast Turkey—Clean duck and roast until tender after filling with fruit dressing. Given amount fills two good-sized ducks. Do not pack too closely, as dressing swells. Two apples, 1-2 pound large, stoned, prunes, 1-4 cup raisins, 1-4 cup cracker crumbs, 1-2 teaspoon sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 egg.

Core, pare and slice apples, dropping them into salted water to keep white. Pour boiling water over the prunes, and when swollen remove stones. Add raisins, crumbs, sugar, salt and beaten egg to prunes. Chop fine, then add apples. Mix and stuff into the ducks before roasting them.

Chestnut Turkey Dressing—Two cups cooked chestnuts, 1 cup dry bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1-2 cup hot water, 1-3 cup melted shortening, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper. Boil chestnuts and while hot put through ricer or mash. Mix crumbs and hot water, let stand for a few minutes. Mix wet ingredients and put into turkey.

Roast Goose—One 8-pound goose, 2 cups bread crumbs, 1 cup chopped onion, 2 tablespoons fat, 1-4 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, pinch of pepper, 6 to 8 prunes, 1-4 cup brown sugar. Cook giblets till tender, chop and add to gravy. Make stuffing by mixing bread crumbs, chopped cooked prunes, onion, fat, sage, salt and pepper. After cleaning and trussing the goose in hot water and wiping it dry inside and out, flatten the breastbone by pressing it with rolling pin. Fill the stuffing into the neck, sew the neck and back. Roast for 15 minutes at 500 degrees, then reduce the heat to moderate 350-degree oven and cook about 3 hours. If the goose is not fat, lay thin slices salt pork on the breast, omit it if goose is fat. Flour may be sprinkled over the goose if desired to have a nice crust. When the flour is a good brown, pour 1 cup water into the baking pan, and baste the goose with it often, dredging each time with a sifting of flour to absorb the fat. Allow 20 minutes per pound for cooking time of young goose, 25 minutes for old one. Remove goose from pan, add a cup of hot water, thicken it with browned flour. Add the giblets to the gravy, serve very hot. Sometimes it is necessary to pour off some of the goose fat before making the gravy.

Roast Loin of Pork—The meat is usually cut close from roast pork loin ribs and used for steaks. Follow the general directions for roasting and allow 30 minutes for each pound. Serve with apples roasted in the same pan or fried. Save all the drippings from the baking pan and see that the glaze is all dissolved. If the oven has not been too hot, this fat will serve for frying and the gravy can be made to serve with the cold roast.

American Beauty Salad—Mold cranberry jelly in a ring mold. When set, unmold onto a bed of watercress on a big cake plate, fill center with a salad made of chopped celery, halved and seeded white grapes, diced apples and chopped blanched almonds, mixed with a sweetened mayonnaise.

Prince George III.
LONDON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Prince George, young son of the king, was confined to his bed today suffering from a cold.

ATLANTA JEWS PLAN CELEBRATION OF LIGHTS

Jews of Atlanta tonight will begin observance with the rest of the world the festival of Chanukkah. For a week synagogues, schools and other Jewish organizations, Jewish community centers, including M. H. A.'s and Y. W. H. A.'s will conduct mass gatherings and club celebrations.

A special feature is the kindling of the Chanukkah lights in lobbies and halls of the centers and in Jewish homes. The festival commemorates the successful struggle for religious liberty on the part of the Maccabees against their Syrian oppressors, culminating in the recapture of Jerusalem and the rededication of the holy temple over 2,000 years ago.

BETTY COMPTON DENIES CHARGES BY SEABURY
CAP D'ANTIBES, France, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Frank Seabury, American author, who is going to help Mayor Walker with his memoirs, tonight stated he had been authorized in behalf of Betty Compton to deny the truth of a recent statement, attributed to Samuel Seabury in the press here, that she had received a large sum from Russell T. Sherwood, missing accountant sought in the New York municipal investigation.

She declared Mr. Seabury never made any effort to subpoena her personally, even when she was in New York, or to get in touch with her when he was in Paris last autumn at the same time she was.

USE OF OXYGEN BY CITY FIREMEN KEEPS BABY ALIVE

Generous use of oxygen by city firemen for a week probably has saved the life of little Myrtle Duncan, eight-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Savannah Duncan, of 812 Kirkwood avenue, S. E., who is fighting the triple attack of pneumonia, influenza and whooping cough, it was said Thursday.

Physicians in charge of the case said that they believe that the baby has passed the crisis of pneumonia, and, barring further complications, will recover. Very little oxygen had to be used Thursday, the baby breathing easier and going for longer intervals without the artificial lungs.

Davis Sees Salvation In Accord of Nations

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Norman H. Davis, United States delegate to the disarmament conference, returned to the Manhattan today with the statement that "the world has never been faced with so many major problems that cannot be settled except by the concerted action of the governments."

Now you can take your choice.

Your grocer has Snowdrift in the new 1-lb. and 2-lb. cartons and in the air-tight pails.

Snowdrift
Whether you spoon Snowdrift from the carton or the pail, you find it the same creamy, fresh Snowdrift you have always liked so well . . . It has the same way of making all your biscuit, cake and fried food a little nicer and better to eat. And there's the same guarantee of Snowdrift's freshness and purity, whether you buy it in the new carton or in the familiar air-tight pail.

BANKS AT CLAXTONCOMPLETE MERGER

CLAXTON, Ga., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The First National bank of Claxton and the Citizens bank have been merged and henceforth will be known as the First National bank.

The final draft of the merger and transfer of property were completed Tuesday at a joint meeting of the directors of both banks. R. G. Tappin was elected president; M. V. Overstreet, vice president, and W. L. Newton, cashier.

STATUTORY SETTLEMENTCALLED FOR BY STERCHI

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The late J. G. Sterchi, of Knoxville, founder of 65 retail furniture stores located in southern cities, left his entire estate to be distributed among his heirs at law as provided by the statutes of distribution in Tennessee, according to his will on file today.

His widow and a son, Gilbert Sterchi, are heirs at law. Mrs. Sterchi qualified as executrix and trustee. No estimate of the value of the estate was given.

Atlantans Join Last-Minute Rush To Illuminate Living Yule Trees

By BEN COOPER.

The "Light the Living Trees" editor was swamped Thursday as Atlantans rushed to join the happy movement which has brought so much good cheer to the city at Christmas time.

While the editor fought his way out of a maze of names obtained by enthusiastic Camp Fire Girls seeking the prize of a Christmas party at the Fox theater, officials of the organization announced that the Wicawataula and Takita groups of Bass Junior High school tied with 103 names each and won the reward for this year.

The girls will enjoy the Fox show this afternoon. Mrs. Wilbur Eastwick is guardian of Wicawataula and Mrs. A. E. Wilson of Takita group.

It is not too late to enroll in this joyous, friendly movement. All it requires is a set of colored bulbs hooked to the house wiring through an outlet or socket, and strung in a living tree on the lawn.

If you are joining the living tree lighters, call on the Fire Girls, Walnut 3728, or The Constitution, Walnut 6565, and give in your name and address.

Among the living tree lighters are the following:

Mrs. Henry Bolling, 786 Cumberland road; Mrs. W. Norris Harris, 161 Clifton road; N. E. L. N. Evans, 1083 Lullwater road; C. A. Puckett, Buckhead electrician, who prepared a community tree light display on Sims avenue; W. J. Atkinson, 571 Oakdale road; A. W. Mother of Mooney Returns From Russia

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Admittedly "worn out and getting a little too old for travel," Mrs. Mary Mooney returned today from Russia, where she carried to the World Congress of the International Labor Defense greetings from her son, Tom Mooney.

"But I'll never be too old, or too tired," said the aging woman. "To work every day to get my boy out of prison."

GILDA GRAY VICTIM OF GRIPPE ATTACK

WORCESTER, Mass., Dec. 22.—(UP)—A severe case of the grippe, threatening to turn into pneumonia, confined Gilda Gray, the dancer, under care of a physician, to her hotel suite here today.

NORRIS SUGGESTS PROBE OF R. F. C.

Advances of $107,653,587 Authorized by Organization in November.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Suggestion for investigation of the Reconstruction Corporation was made today in the senate at about the same time that a report reached congress that the corporation had authorized advances of $107,653,587 in November.

Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, made the suggestion after he had read a magazine article in the senate telling of operations of the corporation. He did not offer a resolution for the investigation, but an such a study should be made to let the country know what was being done with the millions of dollars of taxpayers' money.

The corporation's report related that $71,541,854 of loans had been authorized to banks in November and that the remainder of the total advances authorized during the month, $18,687,373 had been to governors for relief work in different states.

Bulk in Banks.

Of the $71,541,854 authorized to financial institutions, the report said, $2,258,006 was for banks and trust companies, including $2,836,510 to aid in the reorganization or liquidation of closed banks; $3,376,180 to building and loan associations; $2,730,800 to mortgage loan companies; $66,748 to a credit union; $2,128,000 to joint stock land banks; $132,547 to agricultural credit corporations; $473,565 to live stock credit corporations; $38,206,000 to railroads including $1,510,000 to a railroad receiver.

Georgia Loans.

Reconstruction loans authorized banks and trust companies included: Georgia: Bankers' Citizens Bank and Trust Co., $9,152; Baxley State bank, $5,000; Cornelia bank, $10,000; Hapeville Bank of Hapeville, $10,380; Bank of Statesboro, $8,500; First National Bank of Waycross, $60,000; and Bank of Waynesboro, $6,452.

Loans authorized to Florida banks and trust companies in November were:

Apalachicola State bank, $75,000; Cedar Key State bank, $7,000; Bank of Palatka (report in full), $2,500; Putnam State bank of Palatka, $30,000 and Bank of Starke, $7,000.

5 1/2 Per Cent.

Most of the loans to the financial institutions were at 5 1/2 per cent interest, with some to receivers of banks at 5 per cent.

The report showed a cash balance of $3,824,051 in the corporation's treasury at the close of business November 30, and that during the month it sold to the United States treasury $25,000,000 in notes.

During November, the report said, the corporation paid in $6,000,000 as capital of regional agricultural credit corporations, $9,000,000 going each to the regional agricultural credit corporations of Albany, N. Y., and Jackson, Miss.

The subscription of capital to each of the regional agricultural credit corporations at Sioux City, Iowa, and Spokane, Wash., was increased from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000.

New Branch.

"A new branch of the regional corporation at Salt Lake City was created at Reno, Nev.

During November the corporation's allocation of $2,500,000 to the secretary of agriculture for crop production loans brought the total authorized advances for this purpose to $130,000,000. The report said $13,000,000 of this amount had been returned.

Norris told the senate those favoring complete publicity of the corporation activities had been "defeated" in that purpose. He quoted from the article to the effect that "hundreds of millions had been passed around" without congress knowing who received it.

The article from which the Nebraskakan read said of $264,000,000 loaned to railroads, $156,000,000 went to three groups—"the Missouri, New Swearingen and Pennsylvania railroad interests."

Forgery and Larceny Charged to Broker

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A complaint charging 16 counts of grand theft and eight counts of forgery was issued late today against Leslie B. Henry, Pasadena broker. It charges embezzlement of $75,000 from Mrs. Charlotte Shelby, mother of Mary Miles Minter.

District Attorney Burton Pitts ordered issuance of the complaint after Mrs. Shelby presented him a letter she said Henry had written to her describing a plan of suicide to end a life of "madness" and repay her alleged $500,000 losses through life insurance.

A. W. Mellon Returns As Silent as Ever

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Andrew Mellon on his return from London today said he would retire to his Pittsburgh home "soon after March 4."

To get a "fresh perspective on affairs in Washington" and to spend Christmas with his family, the ambassador to England arrived aboard the Europa, insisting that it "is not appropriate for me now to discuss the war debt situation in any way."

Asked if he had any intention of resigning while in America for the holidays, Mellon said:

"I wouldn't resign for any reason not to go back and it is hardly within the range of possibility that I would not do so."

The former secretary of the treasury, a "somewhat tired and anxious for a rest," said he expected to be replaced at the Court of St. James "as soon as Roosevelt is inaugurated."

Suffered Ten Years Then Found Sargon

Recommends It Because It Proved Worth in Her Case

"Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the most wonderful medicines I have ever used. I say this because they have brought back my health after I had suffered for ten long years. My liver was torpid and my complexion sallow. My entire system was filled with poison. I was dreadfully nervous and was losing my strength and energy. Sargon ended my troubles as no other medicine has ever done. But the greatest blessing of all was the way the Sargon Soft Mass Pills relieved me from constipation from which I had suffered for so many years."—Mrs. Alexander Malcott, 1406 W. SLANDERING A STATE.

The refusal of Governor Moore, of New Jersey, to honor the requisition of the state of Georgia for the return of the escaped convict, Burns, is not material except as viewed from the standpoint of the reflection cast upon Georgia in the proceedings.

During the hearing before the New Jersey governor the good name of New Jersey was, in a manner totally unwarranted by the facts, dragged in the mud by discredited radicals and representatives of organizations busily engaged in stirring up trouble throughout the country under the guise of "humanitarian" efforts.

The people of Georgia were pictured to the world as approving sweat boxes and stocks in their prison camps. Pictures showing various kinds of brutalities and which were specially posed to illustrate cruelties that do not exist, were presented and apparently accepted at their face value.

Burns himself stated that the charges in his book were exaggerated and that further exaggeration took place in the filming of the motion picture from the book, the producers admitting that they resorted to "poetic license" for the purpose of dramatization.

Busbodies who know nothing of conditions in Georgia, and whose main purpose was evidently to conceal the truth rather than to reveal it, declared that if Burns were brought back to Georgia he would be lynched—an absurdity on its face.

John Spivak, author of a recently published book on prison conditions in Georgia in which he portrayed them as worse than the black hole of Calcutta, was asked if the prison authorities knew his pictures, some of which afterwards were proven not to have been taken in the camps, were being taken. "Yes," he replied in adding his testimony to the mass of palpably false evidence, "that's the horror of it; they do not think it bad."

The false charges against prison conditions in Georgia are a calumny on the state and on the members of its prison commission—men of as high type as are to be found in any state and not one of whom would tolerate for a moment any such brutality as that charged.

The people of Georgia abhor brutalities in the treatment of criminals and the state prison commission has endeavored to surround the prisoners under their keeping with every safeguard. Georgia was one of the first states of the Union to institute reforms in prison methods and the lash disappeared here long before it did in other states.

The injustice to Georgia does not exist as much in the refusal of Governor Moore to honor the requisition for Burns as in the wide publicity given to the false and defamatory charges about conditions in this state.

The situation was aggravated by the efforts of radical organizations which, under the pretense of seeking to protect an individual from "injustice," lent a willing hand in slandering and vilifying the state.

Perhaps the quickest way to collect on your accident insurance is to enter a hick town and kick some man's dog.

SPANISH REPUBLIC STRONG.

Apparently the Spanish republic, after various vicissitudes and threat of imminent overthrow, is firmly established. It has weathered inside attacks from the reactionary, monarchist and clerical elements on one side and from revolutionary groups on the other.

The day of the monarchy seems to be definitely over and it is highly improbable that King Alfonso will ever hear the call to come back, for which he admits he is waiting.

The stability of the new republic is largely attributable to the Intelligence and strength of character of government inherited an almost medieval state apparatus, with most of the land held in great estates by the nobility and by the church, and most of the workers barely more than serfs.

Under the direction of Prime Minister Azana political moderation, constructive work, organic and common effort have been instituted. Vast estates closed for centuries have been opened up and the paralyzing grip of the clerics on both business and government has been broken.

Spain is not out of the woods yet, despite the present strength of its new government. Many conditions within its borders are similar to those of centuries back. A considerable portion of its people are uneducated, poverty-stricken and totally ignorant of the responsibilities and duties of good citizenship.

Such handicaps to national welfare cannot be overcome overnight, but it seems now that the nation under its new form of government and with wise, patriotic and self-sacrificing leaders is establishing itself on a basis of permanence.

Let's see. The way to end the depression is to increase buying, so we'll have a sales tax to discourage buying.

ALLOTMENT PLAN RAPPELLED.

Despite the approval by farm organizations generally of the domestic allotment plan of farm relief, numerous warnings are being uttered that this plan is no better than those which have been tried out before.

Latest of these protests comes from Representative Nelson, democratic member of congress from the great agricultural state of Missouri, in which he pictures the allotment plan as an "artificial setup which may do to President-elect Roosevelt what the farm board did to President Hoover."

Other congressmen, members of both parties, have warned of the danger that the allotment plan would lead to additional market stabilization efforts by government agencies, the utility of which has been demonstrated by the disastrous results of the efforts of the farm board to defy the laws of supply and demand.

Certainly congress should go slow in the enactment of relief measures based on this plan in the face of such warnings from the representatives of agricultural states. Unless there is reasonable assurance of benefits to agriculture, this is no time to experiment with schemes so threatening to the welfare of basic industries as the allotment plan undoubtedly is.

The danger to industry from the allotment plan is illustrated in the effect it would have on cotton textiles. The bonus for the cotton growers would be secured by a tax applied to the staple at the mills. Since no such tax would be applied to wool and other substitute materials, cotton fabrics would be shouldered with a price handicap which would be practically insurmountable.

Undoubtedly something must, and will, be done by congress to relieve the agricultural interests of the country, but it should not be stampeded into taking action, as was done in the case of the farm board, which will make matters worse instead of better.

The one sure way to reduce government expenditures is for the taxpayer to say "no."

Beer tax. A method of reducing taxation by taking it out of the other pocket.

What can hunger marchers expect when they go to Washington in trucks instead of a private car?

But if the honest borrower is forced to pay it back, why isn't the swindler and the thief?

What will become of America? Well, what happened to the south when carpet baggers treated it the same way?

But if we had a truck and leisure and a good gang, there are lots of places we'd rather go than Washington.

After all, the criminal may be incapable of sane conduct. Why think him an exception?

"How shall we use Al Smith?" asks an editorial. Speaking off-hand, we'd say better.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Why the Slump?

Mr. Baldwin has made a speech. All the European papers are full of it. Mr. Baldwin spoke of aerial warfare. He described its horrors, its unimaginable terror, its ghastliness. Others have spoken on this subject before. Some have written of it. Mr. Baldwin really said nothing new. He retold what is an old story. So there is really nothing wonderful about his speech. Still all the papers were full of it.

What Mr. Baldwin did not say was how to prevent the dreadfulness of aerial war. And that was his job. For Mr. Baldwin is one of the chief ministers of the British cabinet. Others can tell what an aerial warfare would be like. They can do it better than Mr. Baldwin. What was his job? But a solution he did not advance. To the contrary, he said that the present generation, his generation, would probably never see an aerial war. That would be left for the next generation. It would be the last thing that generation saw, for so said Mr. Baldwin, once unleashed, it would wipe out European civilization and destroy two-thirds of human life. He let it go at that.

The next generation is to take care of its own troubles. The unborn children are to solve the question, which the incapacity of present-day statesmen is handing over to them. Men like Mr. Baldwin, with their hands full of the problems of the present, are coming. But can they wash their hands of it? Is it enough to say, it won't happen in our days which isn't certain at all—and let it go at that? Is that statesmanship? Men know that a gigantic disaster is coming and yet they don't grow in the least excited about it. They are not excited about the burden of armaments which keeps Europe in distress and America in depression. And yet what is really being said is about it? From the mouths of statesmen and diplomats very little. Therefore pressure on them, pressure and more pressure. From societies and churches and from everybody.

Free Discussion.

Beyond this such problems as the economic situation, the problem of debts cannot be accomplished in satisfactory manner through the ordinary routine of diplomatic contacts. The only way to reach them is by direct and direct discussion with each government separately where agreement can be reached. The problem of debts cannot be reached. It has been an almost universal practice in our government where unusual situations have arisen, to appoint special delegations to undertake such discussions. The routine machinery of diplomacy neither affords the type of men required nor the freedom of action which such discussions require.

While we must not change our established policy of dealing with each debtor nation separately, and indeed no other course could be entertained in view of the widely different conditions of the various different countries and the very different situations in which they find themselves, and while the decision to take this course is not a decision of the debt question, it is a decision of the world economic conference. It is a decision which should be made by the congress in order that such intricate facts and circumstances can be effectively presented to the congress. It is no derogation of the authority to choose members from that quarter. It might be well to consider this delegation should include some of the old or new members of the delegation to the arms conference in order that these three important questions of your armament, your economic situation and your debt question, can be given coordinated consideration.

Situation Urgent.

If it were not for the urgency of the situation both at home and abroad, the possible great helplessness to employment and agricultural prices and general restoration of confidence which could be brought about by the economic conference, these questions and the corresponding great dangers of inaction, it would be normal to allow the whole matter to rest until after the emergency such as exists at the moment I would be negligent of my duty if I did not facilitate in every way the efforts of the congress in dealing with these questions. It is obvious that no conclusions would be reached from such discussion prior to March 4, and that the machinery could be created at once by the appointment of the delegates as I have mentioned.

It should be informing the congress of the economic situation and of the desirability of the above proposed machinery for dealing with these questions. I should be glad to know if you could join with me in the selection of such delegation at the present time or if you feel that the whole matter should be deferred until after March 4. The President:

The "This" House.

Dear Mr. President:

I have given earnest consideration to your courteous letter of December 17 and I want to assure you that I seek every proper way to be of help. It is my view that the question of disarmament, intergovernmental debts and permanent economic arrangements will be found to require selective treatment even though this will be with full recognition of the possibility that in the ultimate outcome of the relationship any two or all of these may become clear.

(1) As to disarmament: Your policy is clear and satisfactory. Some time, however, is required to be taken in the preliminary conversations, the chief executive has full authority of the diplomatic service or by supplementing it with specially appointed agents of the president himself, to conduct such preliminary investigations or inquiries without in any way making the policy question, I am impelled to suggest, however, that these surveys should be limited to determining facts, and Give Opportunity.

(2) As to debts: If any debtor nation desires to approach such nation should be given the earliest opportunity to do so. Certainly in the preliminary conversations the chief executive has full authority of the diplomatic service or by supplementing it with specially appointed agents of the president himself, to conduct such preliminary investigations or inquiries without in any way making the policy question, I am impelled to suggest, however, that these surveys should be limited to determining facts, and

Texts of Communications

Between Hoover, Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The White House statement of the communications follow. The president said:

It is undesirable for him to assent to my suggestions for co-operative action on the foreign problems outstanding at this time. I will respect his wishes.

"Situations will no doubt develop and will be dealt with by the administration as they arise, but of course no commitments will be made for the next administration.

The correspondence between me and Governor Franklin Roosevelt is attached hereto."

(Telegram.)

Washington, 3:35 P. M., December 22, 1932.

Governor Franklin Roosevelt, Hyde Park, N. Y.

My dear Governor: As you have seen, the correspondence between me and Governor Franklin Roosevelt is attached hereto. In the December 15 payments is now largely determined. In accord with the suggestions of the committee, the United States to survey and exchange views on these questions in relation to some of the debtors' governments. It is necessary to consider the character of machinery to be erected for this purpose.

These problems cannot be discussed from the problems which will come before the world economic conference and to some degree those before the conference on world disarmament. As the economic situation in foreign countries is one of the dominant depressants of prices and employment in the United States, it is necessary to consider the situation should be chosen at an early moment in order that it may give necessary consideration and familiarity with the problems, and secure the necessary investigation and study is made as will be necessary for its use at the conference.

Free Discussion.

Beyond this such problems as the economic situation, the problem of debts cannot be accomplished in satisfactory manner through the ordinary routine of diplomatic contacts. The only way to reach them is by direct and direct discussion with each government separately where agreement can be reached. The problem of debts cannot be reached. It has been an almost universal practice in our government where unusual situations have arisen, to appoint special delegations to undertake such discussions. The routine machinery of diplomacy neither affords the type of men required nor the freedom of action which such discussions require.

While we must not change our established policy of dealing with each debtor nation separately, and indeed no other course could be entertained in view of the widely different conditions of the various different countries and the very different situations in which they find themselves, and while the decision to take this course is not a decision of the debt question, it is a decision of the world economic conference. It is a decision which should be made by the congress in order that such intricate facts and circumstances can be effectively presented to the congress. It is no derogation of the authority to choose members from that quarter. It might be well to consider this delegation should include some of the old or new members of the delegation to the arms conference in order that these three important questions of your armament, your economic situation and your debt question, can be given coordinated consideration.

Situation Urgent.

If it were not for the urgency of the situation both at home and abroad, the possible great helplessness to employment and agricultural prices and general restoration of confidence which could be brought about by the economic conference, these questions and the corresponding great dangers of inaction, it would be normal to allow the whole matter to rest until after the emergency such as exists at the moment I would be negligent of my duty if I did not facilitate in every way the efforts of the congress in dealing with these questions. It is obvious that no conclusions would be reached from such discussion prior to March 4, and that the machinery could be created at once by the appointment of the delegates as I have mentioned.

It should be informing the congress of the economic situation and of the desirability of the above proposed machinery for dealing with these questions. I should be glad to know if you could join with me in the selection of such delegation at the present time or if you feel that the whole matter should be deferred until after March 4. I believe there would be no difficulty in agreeing upon an adequate representation for the economic conference. The first concern would be the selection of a chairman for the delegation.

PRESIDENT'S PLANS

FARM SUPPLY BILL IS SENT TO HOUSE

Committee Cuts $65,000,000 From Federal Highway Aid Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(P)—The $110,981,000 agriculture department supply bill, setting aside only $35,000,000 for federal highway aid in the next fiscal year, was reported to the house today by its appropriations committee.

It was the third of the nine big annual appropriation measures to be reported since congress convened. One, the treasury-postoffice measure, already has been sent to the senate and the house was considering the interior department bill today.

Carrying out President Hoover's recommendation for reducing the federal highway aid allotment by $65,000,000, the committee allowed only $35,000,000 of the usual annual $100,000,000 outlay.

The bureau of federal roads said this would meet the maturing obligations to the states for the full fiscal year of 1934 due partly to the $120,000,000 emergency employment relief appropriation made at the last session.

The bill for the fiscal year 1934, beginning July 1, 1933, is $206,902,000 less than appropriations for the present fiscal year which were $317,882,000—of which $194,783,000 was allotted to highway construction. It is $7,882,000 less than President Hoover's budget estimates of $118,814,000. This saving largely was from federal highway, forest roads and trails estimates.

A legislation provision for the abolition of the advisory federal plant quarantine board created in 1929 was included in the measure, which allows a few increases of small amounts in budget estimates. Among them are $25,000 for eradication of the pink boll worm in southern states; $65,000 for reforestation; $25,000 for eradication of the Japanese beetle; and $40,000 for the gypsy and brown tail moths.

All together $379,804 was allotted eradication of the pink boll worm; $108,358 for gypsy and brown tail moth control; and $349,837 for Japanese beetle control. The committee slashed the appropriation for European corn borer control, which has been under congressional fire for several years, to $10,000, or $255,000 less than the present year and $171,000 less than budget estimates.

Among the important appropriations are: $4,607,000 for experiment stations; $12,759,000 for extension and other cooperative activities with farmers; $3,731,000 for the weather bureau; $11,358,000 for bureau of animal industry; $4,510,000 for bureau of plant industry; $11,331,000 for forest service; $6,095,000 for bureau of agricultural economics; $2,158,000 for plant quarantine; $200,000,000 for grain futures enforcement; $1,550,000 for food and drug administration; $4,157,000 for forest roads and trails.

200 GIFTS TO KIDDIES

Two little grandsons of Arthur Montgomery Sr., Arthur Jr. and George A. 6 and 9 years old, have been saving out of their allowances a fund to help the less fortunate children of the city. As a result, 200 Atlanta children today will receive a package of candy.

Impressed with the savings of the two boys, their grandfather augmented their savings and placed an order for the candy to be delivered through the Salvation Army.

TAX ASSESSOR DIES
FOLLOWING BEATING

CROSSVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 22.—(P)—Injuries he claimed he suffered when dragged from his horse and beaten proved fatal today to Vernon Potter, 38, tax assessor of Cumberland county.

He died in a Rockwood hospital. He accused Charles Ayres of beating him, officers said, and charged that Ronald Ayres and Pearly Branstetter were implicated in the attack.

"I didn't believe any medicine on earth would do for me what Sargol did. Three years ago rheumatic pains hit me all over. I had to use a cane to get about, and sometimes my legs would just crumple up under me. Stomach trouble and constipation also gave me lots of trouble. I was put on a strict diet for two years and took all kinds of medicines, but if I got any better I couldn't tell it. My friends hardly believe I'm the same man since I took Sargol. My digestion is as sound as a dollar. I haven't a touch of rheumatism and have thrown my cane away. My legs are as good as they were 20 years ago. Sargol Pills regulated my bowels in fine shape; they acted easy and natural—something I can't say for any other laxative I ever used."

Cock Robin Is Killed By Florida's Kindness

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 22.—(P)—It looks now like kindness killed Cock Robin.

The chief of police at Racine, Wis., shipped a stranded robin red breast to the chief of police here yesterday. The bird had been ill, having recovered from a blow of a stone. It was unable to migrate south with others in the fall.

It got mighty cold in Racine and robins were strictly out of season in 10 below zero weather. So as soon as it was able to travel in a box, the Racine chief sent the bird south.

It declined to fly away from the local chief's office, being too weak. So they put it in a pen behind the police station and the force volunteered to care for it.

Today the bird turned over and died. There is some talk that it got too much food and attention, but about all the officers wish with each other in being kind to it.

GEORGIANS EXPLAIN VOTE AGAINST BEER

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Explaining their vote against the Collier beer bill, which passed the house yesterday, three members of the Georgia congressional delegation said today they regarded 3.2 per cent beer intoxicating and therein conflict with the eighteenth amendment.

Only two members of the Georgia delegation supported the beer measure. Representative Homer C. Parker, of Statesboro, and Representative Carl Vinson, of Milledgeville. All the others, except Representative Brand, of Dublin, and Representative Land, of Athens, who were absent, were aligned with the opposition.

Among those who voted against the bill, only three were available today. Representative Bryant T. Castellow, of Outburst; Representative W. C. Lanford, of Douglas, and Representative Malcolm C. Taver, of Dalton. With the measure out of the way, most of the others departed for their homes in the state for the Christmas holidays.

Representative Lanford had this brief comment to make: "I think the alcoholic content of beer as authorized by the bill is beyond the intoxicating limitation of the eighteenth amendment and therefore I opposed it."

As the newest member from Georgia, Representative Castellow, who succeeded to the seat in the house made vacant by the resignation of Representative Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, said that 3.2 per cent beer was intoxicating in fact and that he would not be performing his constitutional duties as a legislator if he voted to legalize an intoxicating beverage.

"As prosecuting attorney of my judicial circuit in Georgia for many years, I became convinced that 4 per cent beer by volume is in fact intoxicating and that it cannot be constitutionally legalized. I heard much on the floor of the house to the effect that democrats should uphold their party platform and vote for beer, but I do not consider that the Chicago platform attempted to legalize anything that was illegal."

Representative Taver, a "bone dry" and a prime mover against consideration of both the Garner repeal resolution and the Collier beer bill, said: "I voted against the beer bill not only because I thought it was unconstitutional but because I did not propose to take $1,000,000,000 from the poor man who the ways and means committee explained should have his beer. At a time of great distress and misery, unparalleled during the last half century of our country's history, and as the day approaches when the star of Bethlehem is again to shed its Holy light over the sufferings of our people, the ways and means committee came bringing its gift in commemoration of the natal day of the Saviour of mankind and that gift was the open saloon."

Preachers Kill Child 'Driving Out Devil'

LINDEN, Texas, Dec. 22.—(P)—Accused of killing a crippled 5-year-old child during a purported attempt to "drive the devil" from her body, two ministers, who claim the Apostolic faith, faced murder charges here tonight.

The men, Paul and Coy Oaks, brothers, admitted, Sheriff Nat Curwright said, that they choked the child to death Tuesday in an effort to "drive out the devil," which they believed was responsible for the partial paralysis.

The child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Clayton, who live near here, was stricken with infantile paralysis while an infant and had been dumb and unable to walk.

George Wilson, a neighbor of the Claytons, told officers here Tuesday by a "common" theory. He said he was quoted as saying he found the two preachers kneeling over the prostrate form of the child.

They ordered him to leave, Wilson said, claiming he was "a devil." The child's father was in the room, Wilson said, and the mother was in another part of the house. Wilson notified officers and the arrests followed.

'Mercy' Dry Betrayal Is Reversed by Court

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 22.—(P)—The conviction of a defendant charged with selling a gallon of liquor to a prohibition informer was overruled here yesterday by the United States fifth circuit court of appeals on a plea of performance of an act of mercy.

John Hunter, convicted in the federal court for the eastern district of Texas and sentenced to a year in jail, said an informer unknown to him appealed to him for a gallon of whiskey, saying his mother was very ill and had to have it. Hunter pleaded he bought the liquor and delivered it to the informer purely as an act of mercy.

DESERTER OF BRIDE JAILED FOR BIGAMY

Man Arrested at Baltimore After Quitting Wife of Two Days Here.

Ralph V. Lombardi, alias Ralph V. LePage, was being held Thursday in Baltimore for extradition to Georgia as a local officer investigated the man's alleged bigamous marriage to a Flagstaff, Ariz., girl and his subsequent desertion of the young woman in Atlanta.

Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant said that the young woman, who gave her name prior to the marriage as Miss Lillie Casey, told him that LePage, as the man was known to her, left her in a local hotel facing an unpaid board bill and that LePage took $200 of her money with him.

Baltimore officers, investigating LePage, developed the fact that the man was married to another woman in Baltimore on June 26, it was said. The marriage to Miss Casey took place on December 12, Chief Sturdivant said. She told officers that she met LePage in a travel agency car coming to Atlanta. When arraigned in Baltimore Thursday, LePage denied having married the woman and said that he would fight extradition.

At the local hotel where LePage registered with the Arizona girl, it was said that they came to the hotel on December 12 and LePage left on December 14. The girl checked out of the hotel Wednesday night, and was to have gone to a local home for girls pending developments in the case, but she had not shown up at the boarding home Thursday night.

The matter probably will be taken before the Fulton county grand jury this morning, Chief Sturdivant said.

ROBINSON MOVE HALTS VET ECONOMY HEARING

Committee Adjourns Till After Holiday Without Acting on Senator's Request.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(P)—A demand of Senator Robinson, republican, Indiana, that Henry H. Curran, director of the National Economy League, be sworn before appearing before the joint congressional committee on veterans' legislation today brought an immediate recess of the committee's hearings.

Following Robinson's demand, which was made just as Curran arrived at the committee table to take his seat, the committee went into an executive session, and did not decide on that question and agreed to ask more time of congress in which to make its report, due January 1.

Chairman McDuffie, democrat, Alabama, told newspapermen after the executive session that the demand that Curran be sworn was not discussed, but that his personal view was "it would be rather extraordinary procedure to swear some witnesses while others have not been sworn."

When Robinson asked that he be sworn, Curran promptly retorted, "I'd like to have the senator sworn if I am to be."

Representative Chipfield, republican, Illinois, then suggested that the committee go into executive session and the hearing room was cleared of spectators.

RAIL LABOR ACCEPTS COMPROMISE ON PAY

Present Cut Will Be Extended for Another Nine Months.

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—(P)—One million workers early today agreed through their 1,500 representatives to continue to accept pay checks 10 per cent lower than the standard scale for another nine months. When the current agreement expires on January 31 the employees will have felt the effect of the cut for one year.

Their decision, assuring their employers a huge saving in operating costs until next October 31, was reached at 12:04 a. m. after 11 days of negotiation with nine officials of the roads.

The last 14 hours witnessed continuous conferences as the union leaders sought to find common ground on which their men and their employers could stand. They found it in a com-

FARM INCOMES ARE CUT IN TWO IN THREE YEARS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(P)—Figures detailed at hearings on the appropriation bill for the agriculture department told why there is a farm problem.

Nils A. Olsen, chief of the bureau of agricultural economics, put into the record data which showed that the estimated gross income on owner-operated farms had dropped from an average of $1,900 in 1929 to $933 in 1932. In these figures were included the value of the food produced and used on the farms.

After deducting operating costs and interest charges paid non-farmers, the farmers had, on the basis of partial figures, well below $300 available for capital, labor and management in 1932 as compared to $847 in 1929. The estimated decline in the gross income of agriculture as a whole in the three years was from around $12,000,000,000 to $5,200,000,000.

promise proposal made by the roads, but it was almost upset by opposition from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Key Bible Class To Present Christmas Cantata Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. William Webster, shown above, will direct the most elaborate musical program yet attempted by the James L. Key Bible class at the Sunday morning meeting at Keith's Georgia theater. Alfred Woller's Christmas cantata, "The Birth of Christ," will be offered.

The James L. Key Bible class will present an elaborate musical program at Keith's Georgia theater at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning when Alfred Woller's Christmas cantata, "The Birth of Christ," will be sung by the stage chorus of 50 voices under direction of William Webster, New York symphony artist.

There will be other special musical features, including organ selections and solo work by Warren Rhodes, basso; J. O. Pitts, tenor; Miss Coolidge, soprano.

Mitchell, contralto; Robert Robinson, baritone, and Mrs. A. L. Drake. The "Angels Song" from the opera "Faust" will be done in trio by Mr. and Mrs. Webster and Mr. Rhodes. The Websters, late of the New York Symphony orchestra, were starred in "Blossom Time" and "The Student Prince" and are well known to Atlanta music lovers.

Ben L. Brooks, president, will be in charge of the class meeting Sunday, and Mayor Key expects to be able to present the lesson following an absence of several weeks due to illness.

Constant Flow of Accidents Shows Necessity of Insurance

Every day the Atlanta newspapers disclose accidents—some fatal and others serious. Snow and rain mean slippery pavement, slick roads—ideal conditions for accidents.

Many accidents are caused by auto drivers failing to signal their intentions. Every driver should know proper signaling and should keep his mind on what he is doing and give the signals. The other fellow has a right to assume that you know your business. Always signal when stopping, turning or pulling away from curbing.

Running out of line causes many fatal accidents. In heavy traffic stay in line. Collisions when cutting around are usually very serious because one usually speeds up to get ahead. It is hard to gauge the other fellow's speed. Be sure that the distance from the on-coming car will allow plenty of time to stop without having to make a wild dash.

All these things are important, but most of all is the importance of protecting yourself and members of your family against these accidents by taking out insurance as offered you through The Atlanta Constitution. Now is the time. Tomorrow may be too late.

The Constitution offers you the famous travel accident policy issued by the North American Insurance Company of Chicago. This insurance is offered to subscribers and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 69 on the one subscription going into that home at the small registration fee of $1 each per policy per year. The policy The Constitution offers you provides for payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 for travel, $1,000 for auto and pedestrian deaths resulting from certain specified accidents, heavy sums for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for total disability resulting from the accidents set forth in the policy. All this for only $1 registration fee—just about 2 cents a week.

The policy is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill. The reliability of this concern is proved by the fact that already more than $150,000 in cash has been paid on claims to Constitution policy holders.

The insurance is offered to old and new subscribers alike. One who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, or will subscribe for it through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through an out-of-town carrier or dealer, paying for the paper weekly, or monthly, or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible.

Paid-in-advance mail subscribers can also have this insurance by paying the small registration fee of $1 in addition to the subscription price. Those living in Atlanta and suburbs finding it inconvenient to pay the $1 registration fee in advance can pay 20 cents registration fee with the application and 20 cents for five consecutive weeks thereafter in addition to the subscription price.

In sending application for insurance the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation, and if beneficiary is desired the full Christian name of the beneficiary must be given and relationship to the insured.

Modernized Theological Schools Are Urged by Bishop Thirkield

Bishop Wilbur P. Thirkield, chairman of the commission on worship of the Federal Council of Churches, delivering the Founder's Day address at Gammon Theological Seminary Thursday asserted that "there is no institution so firmly held in the clutches of the dead hand of medievalism as many of our schools of theology."

"Some theological schools," he said, "have yielded to the touch of modernity and have revolutionized their courses to meet the life and thought of today. If the chief business of the ministry is to preach, then the sacred mission of the theological school is to make preachers."

Bishop Thirkield began the work of founding Gammon Seminary 49 years ago with two students and an annual income of $1,200. When he accepted the central trusteeship of the Epworth League in 1900, he left Gammon with an endowment and equipment of $700,000. Six of its graduates have become bishops, a thousand graduates have been sent to the ministry and more than a thousand others reached in partial course. Dr. Willis J. King, honor graduate of Boston University School of Theology, is president.

Saying that the name of the theological school should be shifted from theology to preaching, as has been done at St. Albans' cathedral in Washington, where the school is called the "College of Preachers," Bishop Thirkield added:

"The tragedy of many a minister is that he got a logical system of theology and like Crispin's 'dry as dust, with loads of learning in his head,' went out to preach it—giving the people bones and not the bread of life in terms of eager, living experience. I believe we are losing masses of people who have a full right to be in the church because we insist their preaching the whole ecclesiastical theology."

FEDERAL OFFICIAL BACKS ROOSEVELT ON REFORESTATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(P)—President-elect Roosevelt's idea of employing many persons through a reforestation program got some attention from the house appropriations committee.

When it was questioning Major R. Y. Stuart, chief forester, he submitted a statement saying he expected 20,000 persons would be given employment under the $5,000,000 appropriation for forest improvement this year.

Representative Hart, democrat, Michigan, asked: "Did you read the statement of Secretary Hyde in which he said that reforestation was not a sound program for employing the unemployed?" "I did not understand that Secretary Hyde put it quite that way," Stuart replied.

"He made it pretty strong," Hart pursued, "that anybody that suggested it was crazy." Secretary Hyde could not have consulted the forestry department before he made that statement."

IMPROVED OUTLOOK SEEN IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Dec. 22.—(P)—Count Lutz Schwenk, Von Krosigk, finance minister of Germany, in an article appearing today in Heimatsdienst, saw Germany's financial future optimistic.

Forecasting for 1933, he observed "though it is not to be assumed that a forward movement until 1934 will proceed at the same pace as the downward depression movement developed from 1929 to 1932, involving as it did a reduction in public revenues by about 10,000,000,000 marks (about $2,750,000,000), yet we may expect at least so much business revival that it will be possible to carry those advanced drafts on future budgets which had to be risked to liberate ourselves from a vicious circle and help bring about a turn for the better."

NEW VENUE SOUGHT IN SCOTTSBORO CASE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 22.—(P)—Defense attorneys announced today an effort would be made to transfer the Scottsboro case to the docket of the Jefferson county circuit court here.

George W. Chamlee, of Chattanooga, said the request for a change of venue from Jackson county would be presented both from the standpoint of fairness and protection to all concerned.

NUDES WILL BE SHOWN AT BENEFIT FOR JOBLESS

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(UP)—The nude statues designed for but rejected by Rockefeller center—including Mrs. Eugene Lux's "Eve"—will be exhibited here for the benefit of the unemployed, according to plans announced today by Howard S. Culinan.

53 YEARS of MUSE GIFTS For the Men of Atlanta

SINCE '79 the womenfolks of Atlanta and Georgia have followed the grand old custom of giving their menfolks Gifts of worth and enduring quality from Muse's. Therefore, Muse Gifts have come to be regarded as something finer, something different, something more distinctive than Gifts of the "AVERAGE" kind. Because men know, appreciate and proudly wear the things that come from Muse's!

This year of all years there is not the slightest reason why the grand old custom of Giving Muse Gifts shouldn't be more widely observed than ever. Because Gifts cost no more when they're wrapped

MISSION BODY ADOPTS CO-OPERATIVE PLANS

Action Represents Step Toward Centralized Program for Work.

BRIARCLIFF MANOR, N. Y., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Three measures designed to bring a larger degree of co-operation into the program of the Protestant Foreign Mission Boards and Societies of the United States and Canada were adopted today by the Foreign Missions Conference of North America at the close of its annual meeting here.

Approximately 80 mission groups are represented in the organization. To co-ordinate and centralize some of the home activities, the conference recommended that its constituent boards be asked to release certain workers for work at the conference headquarters, New York.

It voted to call a general conference of all foreign mission groups to discuss co-operation in this country and in the field.

It also recommended that the case of missions be presented by representative workers to an entire community at one time instead of, as at present, by denominational workers at various times.

Members said these actions represented a step toward carrying out some of the recommendations of the laymen's foreign missions inquiry report, which urged a "central organization for the carrying on of the mission program."

LIGHT SENTENCES DEALT IN OZARKS IN DRY VIOLATIONS

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Lanky, tanned, tobacco-chewing men who have been in the Ozark hills for a long time today in federal court here today than ever before in the history of national prohibition.

Many fathers of families were free, and experienced liquor sellers drew 60 days in jail instead of the penitentiary sentences handed out two or three years ago.

Bad times, not changing sentiment upon prohibition, had most to do with the court's leniency. Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves said in an interview.

He was asked if his sentences reflected the public's desire for prohibition modification and the action of the national house yesterday in voting for 3.2 per cent beer.

"I must answer that yes and no," Judge Reeves said.

"The main reason for lighter sentences has been poverty. We have had to reduce the level of sentences all over the district.

"These people, many of them, are destitute. When the father of a large family is brought into court for liquor selling, we feel that his community would be hurt more by having to support his family than by having him go free. Communities are burdened enough; they cannot care for the families of imprisoned bootleggers."

POPE PIUS TO DISCUSS WORLD'S ADVERSITIES

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The world's efforts to get back on its feet probably will be discussed by Pope Pius the day before Christmas, when all the cardinals in Rome will make their traditional visit to present their Christmas greetings.

The pope has shown by recent encyclicals that he has been following closely the problems of the crisis.

That the subject of war debts has been in his mind was made evident December 12, when an editorial in the Osservatore Romano, the Vatican organ, said it was necessary that "revelation be met by Europe with corresponding reductions in the enormous expenses of armaments."

COLLEGE 'FAULTS' HIT BY DR. HAMILTON HOLT

CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Three "battering" sins of American colleges, said Dr. Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla., here tonight are "material expansion, glorification of research at the expense of teaching and lack of human contact between teacher and student."

Dr. Holt addressed the 113th annual banquet of the New England Society of Charleston.

"Submission of the individual in a large student body," the educator said, "fosters 'that most malignant of youthful maladies, the inferiority complex.'"

E. H. Brumbeo, 25, a timekeeper for the Georgia Power Company, is reported to be suffering from a possible concussion of the brain. He was brought here by J. W. Archer, a taxi driver, who said he had been told Brumbeo was hurt from an automobile accident at Whitehall and Cooper streets. The injured man lives at 1421 McPherson avenue.

Alvin L. Richards, provisional mayor pro tem, Thursday was acting mayor of Atlanta. Mayor James L. Key remained at his home recovering from an attack of influenza, and J. Charlie Murphy, mayor pro tem, was called out of the city. Key is expected back in his office after the holiday season.

Miss Jane Grant, dancer who swallowed poison recently at the grave of her sweetheart, Fritz Thibault, who was killed in an attempted hold-up of a Fryer street grocery store, Thursday was still in a serious condition at Grady hospital.

The First Baptist church of Atlanta, was second in B. Y. P. U. attendance in Georgia last Sunday night. The church reported a total of 100 or more on Sunday nights, was organized in January, 1929. The church, which has 217 members, and the Tabernacle, with 168, were among Atlanta churches reported on Sunday night.

The St. Paul's Episcopal church, West Peachtree street and North avenue, was robbed of $25 early Thursday by a burglar who drank a bottle of communion wine but left the valuable plates untouched, according to a report to police. The safe door was found open by Osborne Ross, janitor. The burglars entered through a window.

Lieutenant C. H. Mitchell, of 689 Formwalt street, S. W., locked his garage carefully Wednesday night after putting up the police car. Thursday morning the lock was found broken and two wheels and tires were missing from the car, according to police reports.

J. W. Swann, Decatur broom peddler, was robbed of $1.75 at University avenue and Garfield street Thursday morning by a negro according to police reports. Burglars cut a hole in the rear door of H. L. Murphy's home, 1011 Capitol avenue, and stole two watches, a radio, a camera, a typewriter and other valuables. The burglar was entered through the skylight by burglars. H. L. Murphy's store, 118 May street, N. E., was robbed of six pairs of shoes by a window smasher.

A. L. DeFoor has been elected worshipful master of Forest Park Lodge No. 339, F. & A. M., for 1933. Other officers include: J. L. Nash, senior warden; J. G. Bartlett, junior warden; Fred Pounds, senior deacon; C. J. Parker, junior deacon; G. A. Ellington, senior steward; A. M. Mitchell, junior steward; J. F. McFarlane, treasurer; W. W. Edwards, secretary; J. V. Ashmore, chaplain; and J. W. Cosby, tyler.

Senator S. Morton Turner, of Quitman, candidate for the presidency of the state senate, announced Thursday that he would open campaign offices at the Ansley hotel here on January 5, a week before the legislature is to convene. Senator Turner is expected to campaign for Hamilton McWhorter, of Lexington.

Governor-elect Eugene Talmadge announced Thursday that because of the pressure of his duties as commissioner of agriculture, he had been forced to cancel a brief Christmas vacation he had planned to spend at his home at McKee.

West End Pentecostal church, 839 West End street, will have a Christmas program at 7:30 tonight at the church, and will distribute 500 packages of gifts to children. Gifts of food will be distributed to the poor, and a Christmas tree has been arranged and a Christmas play will be given. The Rev. T. F. Reed is pastor.

John Scharf, of 801 Moreland avenue, S. E., police handover and police custodian, recovering from a serious attack of influenza, Thursday evening, has written a stirring march which he has dedicated to Governor Russell. Captain Scharf expects to present the manuscript of the march to Governor Russell when the latter leaves for Washington to take over duties as senator from Georgia.

Celebrating the conclusion of a successful business year, gifts were distributed to employees at a Christmas party given by the Walter W. Brown Building Company, Thursday evening. John A. Easter, assistant manager of the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company, was the principal speaker.

Joe Hogg, who Wednesday entered a plea of guilty in the federal court at Macon on a liquor charge, entered the federal penitentiary here Thursday, while the federal grand jury for this district was in a session which resulted in another liquor indictment. He was indicted Thursday jointly with Willie Flynn as the result of a prohibition raid on December 2. Flynn was jointly named in another liquor indictment with Claude Ogles. Flynn is also under state indictment for attacking a prohibition agent as his trial was set Thursday for early January.

U. S. MILLIONAIRES DROP TO MERE 75

Internal Revenue Reports Reveal 513 in Comparison in 1929.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The fantastic million-or-more incomes of tax '29, which poured millions in taxes into government coffers, have become so few that the year 1931, on near-final statistics, records but 75, against 513 two years before.

How many will be left in this year 1932 is still to be seen, but the internal revenue bureau, in analyzing the national net income for last year, announced today a six-and-one-half-billion drop in the national income from 1930 to 1931. For the latter year the total was $16,341,994,410.

Individual taxpayers reported net income of $13,231,352,042, a drop of $3,389,401,578. Corporations reported net income of $3,110,642,268, which was a decrease of $2,516,670,427.

The number of individual taxpayers who filed returns in 1931 was 3,116,317, of which 1,455,067 paid a tax and 1,661,250 were not taxable. The number filing returns was 260,235 less than 1930. In the corporation group 493,293 made returns and 170,683 paid a tax, which was 148,729 less than the number which paid the previous year.

The net income of individuals showed a decrease of 23.1 per cent, while the net income of corporations dropped 49.6 per cent. The total income of individuals was $16,693,657,713 and took deductions for $1,043,625,622 for net losses from sale of real estate, stocks, bonds, etc., other than reported for tax credit for December to date.

In the deductions for contributions, chiefly to charitable organizations, the largest amount was taken by the National Y. M. C. A., which reported $1,043,625,622 for net losses from sale of real estate, stocks, bonds, etc., other than reported for tax credit for December to date.

The statistics showed that 2,500,197 persons reported income of less than $5,000, their net totaling $6,551,000,000, while 13,786 reported income of less than $1,000, for a net income total of $788,657,353. Persons having net income of $15,000 to $200,000 numbered 610, with the total $110,711,412. Forty-six persons reported net income from $750,000 to $1,000,000, with a total of $40,408,831. 39 persons had income of $1,000,000 to $1,500,000, with total income of $47,255,156; 13 persons reported income from $1,500,000 and under $2,000,000, with a total of $22,861,543. Twelve taxpayers reported income from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000, with a total of $28,841,543; six reported income from $3,000,000 and under $4,000,000, with a total of $14,000,000 and four reported incomes of $5,000,000 or more.

Vidor's Illness Delays $4,113 Alimony Action

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Illness of King Vidor, motion picture director, today caused the superior court today to postpone until Monday the $4,113-a-month alimony action instituted by his wife, Eleanor Boardman, actress. She asked the alimony pending trial of her divorce suit.

Miss Boardman's petition, said she and two children, Antonio, 5, and Belinda, 2, required $1,863 monthly for clothing, food, services and household expenses, $229 for upkeep of grounds; $1,000 for care of the children; $500 for entertainment; $250 for doctors and dentists and school expenses, and $250 for incidentals.

She said she had $45,000 and she estimated Vidor's fortune at $1,000,000, with an income of about $200,000 annually.

Rain, Cloudy Weather
Is Forecast for Today

Cloudy weather with occasional rain and little change in temperature is forecast for Atlanta today by George W. Mindling, United States meteorologist.

The rain may extend into Saturday, Mr. Mindling said. He expected several days of mild temperature. The lowest this morning probably will be about 38 degrees, the same as on Thursday.

The thermometer got up to 55 degrees Thursday afternoon, the highest reading since December 14, when the mercury was 58 degrees. The average daily deficiency in temperature, as the result of the recent cold spell, is slightly more than one degree for December to date.

Rain was general over southern Arizona to the lower Mississippi valley and to the northeast, extending to the Gulf of Mexico. The coldest weather in the country Thursday was at Salt Lake City, Utah, and Winnemucca, Nev., where the thermometer registered 38 degrees. Mr. Mindling said one time was stationed at Winnemucca.

Prohi Administrator
Defends N. C. 'Trap'

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Federal Prohibition Administrator R. Q. Merrick, commenting on the action of the United States supreme court in ordering a new trial for C. V. Sorrells, North Carolina mountaineer, today denied that his agents had entangled an innocent man in a trap.

Explaining that his comments were not meant as a criticism of the vigorously condemned entrapment as a method of catching lawbreakers, Merrick said the tribunal had not been advised there were several prohibition charges against Sorrells in addition to the one passed on by the court of last resort.

Quaker City Officials
Will Get Salary Cuts

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Slashes in the pay of city workers, ranging from a 22.23 per cent cut for Mayor Moore down to 1.77 per cent reductions for the low-salaried, were agreed upon today by city councilmen.

The agreement, which would lop $1,002 from the mayor's present annual salary of $18,000, is intended to save the city $4,000,000.

Another $4,000,000 cut was made in maintenance and supply items. Council received the budget, totaling $81,417,113, from the finance committee and agreement was reached to hold a special meeting Wednesday to pass the budget ordinance and forward it to the mayor.

Miss Dickert Weds Mr. Brown At Beautiful Home Ceremony

Miss Gladys Dickert, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Sligh Dickert, became the bride of LeRoy Charles Brown at a beautiful ceremony solemnized last evening at the home of her parents on Rock Spring road in Morningside. Members of the family connection and a group of close friends of the young couple assembled for the marriage service, which was read by Dr. Stuart Oglesby, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church.

The living room of the Dickert home presented a scene of floral beauty for the nuptials. An altar of palms and ferns was formed before the fireplace, the background of foliage being centered with a graceful floor basket filled with gorgeous calla lilies. Lighted cathedral tapers burning in seven-branched candelabra, supported on floor standards, flanked either side of the floral arrangement. George L. Hamrick rendered the program of nuptial music. Miss Marian Speiden, contralto, was the soloist, using as her selections "All for You" and "I Love You Truly."

Robert Whitehead, young nephew of the bride, lighted the candles at the altar immediately preceding the ceremony. Mrs. R. C. Whitehead acted as her sister's matron of honor. She wore an attractive figure wearing a modish cut gown of white pebble crepe, which featured quaint puffed sleeves and a closely moulded waistline. Her long skirt flared below the knees. Mrs. Whitehead carried an armful of long-stemmed red radiance roses. Mrs. Herman Duke was the only bridesmaid. Her becoming gown of white tulle was fashioned with a graceful shawl cape and a bias-cut skirt, which gained fullness below the knees. Her flowers were an armful of red radiance roses.

Dickert Whitehead, young nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer, wearing a white silk blouse and short trousers of white flannel. He carried the ring in the heart of a calla lily.

The lovely bride entered the room with her father, Jefferson Sligh Dickert, who gave her in marriage, and they were met at the altar by the bridegroom.

Legion Auxiliary Gives Memorial Dinner Dec. 28

A memorial dinner will be given at the Henry Grady hotel Wednesday, December 28, at 6:30 o'clock, by the national defense committee of the American Legion auxiliary, department of Georgia, honoring the birthday anniversary of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. have been invited as honor guests.

Mrs. Boyce Ficklin Jr., past national president of the American Legion auxiliary, and Miss Lella Summerville, of Waycross, Ga., president of the department of Georgia, A. L. A., will attend, as will Commander Scott Candler, of the American Legion, and the members of his command. Reservations may be made by telephoning Mrs. Paul J. McGovern, 14 Seventeenth street, at Hemlock 1130-M, before Monday, December 26. The price of the dinner is $1 a cover.

Naval print plates, which are copied from the famous patterns of the historic American china called "Arms of the States," pattern are being made for limited distribution by the American Legion auxiliary. The china was first made over a century ago and bore the coat of arms of the states then included in the Union, on a beautiful clear china. Scenes from the history of the country are depicted on the china. Yale University boasts one of the most complete collections of the early American prints of historical significance and arrangements are being made by the Atlanta Unit No. 1, American Legion auxiliary through the department of Georgia to have this collection brought to Atlanta at an early date.

Mrs. Tom Brooke Extends Greetings.

Mrs. Tom Brooke, director of the Camp Fire Girls board of directors, extended the following message to the members of the board at their meeting:

"What does our community want most from the organizations it helps to support? Is it more dolls dressed for the poor children at Christmas, so many takers of food distributed at Thanksgiving, so many dressings made for the Red Cross, so many trees planted in the parks? All these things are worth doing, and all of them are done by Camp Fire Girls in recognition of their responsibility as citizens. But there is something far more important that Camp Fire Girls give their communities, something that makes the good citizen and that is the good citizen herself."

"Being a Camp Fire Girl means being first of all a real girl—a girl with an interest in everything that goes on in the world of books—poetry, science, literature—the world of music; and most of all the world of living people. She wants to know how to live a full life, she wants to be able to build a home in which the people she loves are happy, a home which sends out its warmth into the life-stream of the community."

"Our community needs girls who will build homes, girls who find pleasure in doing simple things—making a dress, tidying a room, amusing little with mother, girls who are able to plan and cook a dinner to which their fathers can sit down without a qualm of misgiving. Our community needs girls to whom life is not just a long series of between movies, girls who know how to make their own good times. An investment in Camp Fire Girls is an investment in the homes of the future."

FRIENDLY COUNSEL BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

We have recently moved to this city and have made many pleasant acquaintances that have entertained us and that we have entertained. But I am not happy, for the women do not like me. I am considered a beautiful lady and always keep myself well-groomed, my hair washed and waved and my nails and skin in the pink of condition. Don't think me vain or stuck-up, I'm not, but just stating facts. I am told that I am good company and while I never try to make myself especially agreeable to the men they all like me—but their wives—while they are polite, they give me looks that are eloquent, looks that I know how to interpret. If I had ever given them cause to treat me this way I wouldn't be writing to you. I want to be treated right and want you to tell me how to make them treat me right.

MISTREATED.

ANSWER:

Anyone reading your letter will understand the predicament in which you find yourself. And despite your disclaimer anyone reading it will know that you are vain and conceited. You give yourself a big hand. You swallow whole and digest every compliment that has been paid you as regards looks, good-grooming, attractive personality, winning ways and impeccable manners. A perfect paragon of beauty and virtue!

Now everybody knows that no woman admires or finds agreeable another woman whom her husband makes a dead set for. Call it jealousy or envy or what you will, in the last analysis it is a harkening to the voice of that first law of nature—self-preservation. And if nature has equipped you so magnificently, made you beautiful and charming, and the cynosure of all male eyes, it means that you must use these attributes to win the favor of the women whose husbands already favor you. Else they will come to hate you and to express their hatred in words as well as in looks.

A beautiful exterior may attract the men but a woman has to have something better than skin-deep beauty to make fair weather with her sisters. She has to have something more concrete than a wish to be "treated right" by them before she realizes her wish. That good old animal instinct we call feminine intuition that enables a woman to scent danger before she actually crashes into it has been at work in the group of women to which you refer. They have scented danger in the way hair, the pink nails and the rosebud complexion and they are steering themselves and theirs away from it.

No, you are not mistreated. You may be misunderstood. If you are,

TARZAN THE UNTAMED No. 161

The guards bound Perry more securely, and tied both men fast to opposite sides of the hut. When they had gone Tarzan looked across at his companion in misery. "While there is life," he grinned, "there is hope." Lieutenant Cecil smiled back.

He said: "I fancy we are getting short on both. It must be getting close to the cannibals' supper-time!" . . . Z-utag (Big-neck) hunted alone from the balance of the tribe of Zu-b'at. He had just arrived at maturity.

He was a large, powerful, ferocious beast whose full forehead denoted he was high above the average ape in intelligence. Today, he was returning along a river path because it led past the village of the Gorman-gani, whose peculiar manner of living interested him.

The cannibals always aroused Z-utag's curiosity. Taking up a position in a tree where he could watch the blacks, he had just settled himself when, with the cannibals, he was startled by the crashing of Tarzan's body within the palisade.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

BY ELY CULBERTSON,

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

How Not To Play Bridge.

Every once in a while in Rubber games two strong players get together against very weak opponents. Although the results of these rubbers are not absolutely foregone conclusions, generally you will find the strong pair on the long end of the score—usually by a good margin—if there is no one on the weak side to take control of the bidding or the defense to enable it to get anything at all out of the cards. However, I watched a rubber yesterday wherein the weak side did even worse than usual. It held sufficient cards to win a 1200-point rubber and go out at least four times. It eventually lost an 8-point rubber. North and South, the strong pair, scored one of their games on the following remarkable hand, which serves as an excellent text for a sermon on "How Not to Play Bridge."

North—Dealer.

East—West vulnerable.

The Bidding:

1—A psychic bid to try to steer the opponents from the game which South feels sure they must have.

2—Co-operating with his partner.

3—A Penalty Double, which is the only way in which East can show his strength.

4—North sensibly rings out.

5—Quite risky, but South is desperate. He knows that West will surely bid something if he passes, and that East and West will undoubtedly reach a game. South is enjoying the rubber too much to let it terminate so quickly.

6—West does bid something—a very sound Penalty Double.

Glancing at the North and South hands it is quite obvious to even the merest novice that at least 5 tricks must be lost, and, in addition, close examination of the two hands by an expert shows that perfect defense—that is, merely pumping Declarer with diamonds, probably will defeat the hand 3 or 4 tricks. However, the play went somewhat as follows:

West chose to open a low heart. Declarer took the nine in his hand, finessed the king, and then played the Ace, clearing the trumps. He now led the Spade queen from Dummy. East quite naturally ducked, and West, not knowing his partner held the King, decided to stay off to keep Declarer out of the Dummy to run the rest of the spade suit. Declarer, now having made his spade trick, and if he led clubs himself he knew that East, after taking the club, must shift to diamonds, so he decided to adopt a more strategic course. He led a low diamond from Dummy up to the singleton 9 in his hand. West, of course, taking the trick with the Knave, West did exactly what Declarer hoped he would. Assuming South to have something in diamonds, West shifted to clubs, leading the King, then following with a small one. East took the Ace and laid down the spade King. However, he had already discarded a small spade on the third round of hearts and had no spades to continue. East, holding the diamond King, was loath to continue that suit and now shifted to a club. Declarer cashed his two clubs and then the two remaining trumps, and poor West was up against it. He did not know whether South had another diamond or another spade left, and still under the same delusion as he was when he led the Ace, he led the spade King with his 9 of spades. Thus, only 4 tricks were lost—2 clubs, 1 diamond and 1 spade—and the contract of three hearts doubled was made. This was the most amazing defense I have ever seen.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

The hand and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

Technocracy Is Attacked, Defended by Economists

New Business Plan Meets
Praise of Dr. T. J. Cauley,
But Is Scored by Eugene W. O'Brien.

By BEN COOPER.

Presentation of the findings of the technocrats at this time is unfortunate in that "there is foisted upon us more calamity howling," Eugene W. O'Brien, editor of Southern Power Journal, and an official of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, told the City Club Thursday at the Wincoff hotel.

The views of the technocrats were discussed by Dr. T. J. Cauley, professor of economics at Emory University, who said that two possible ways out of the problems faced by the world are open. One is abandonment of machinery and a return to self-sufficing agriculture and handicraft; the other a collective control of machines and the distributing system so that none will want, which, he said, "means socialism."

Joseph T. Rose, collector of internal revenue, in expressing the thanks of the club to the speakers, expressed the opinion that if all of the views of the technocrats were put into effect at once "we would create revolution." Mr. Rose believes that the situation will finally clear itself, and he reminded members of the club that the human mind adjusts itself to conditions by a process of evolution and not by jumping radically.

Depicting the development of the machine and the evolution of the specialist, Dr. Cauley said that there has been a stupendous amount of displacement of men from employment in the last 20 years. Income from business is reinvested in more machines, and the growth of the machines doubles and redoubles, he said.

Dr. Cauley does not believe that machines are producing more than the people are willing and able to consume, but rather that they are producing more than can be sold to the public with its curtailed income. In referring to the pyramiding of finances, he said that bonds issued in 1920 and maturing in 2020 were placed on machinery that already is obsolete.

Dr. Cauley favors the return to self-sufficing agriculture and handicraft as a solution of the problem, but observed that "I seem to be remarkably alone in this view."

This plan, would, he said, involve material reduction in the standard of living.

Employment as a vital question may solve itself by a decline in population, as figures show that the population of the United States probably will reach a limit and become stationary in 1960, and after that decline in numbers, Dr. Cauley said.

"Socialism," he said in conclusion, "is, as all nice people know, wicked and sinful."

Mr. O'Brien found that the conclusions of the technocrats "are lacking in accuracy." In fact, he said, he traced down some of them and found that they were wrong. He regretted that the technocrats have presented their findings at this time, giving "depressing conclusions without facts to confirm them in the average mind."

The technocrats, he said, are a self-constituted group of 25 men "set up to judge conditions without suggesting a remedy. It is barely possible that they have gone off at a tangent, as have other like groups."

Mr. O'Brien said that value is a question of use rather than of exchange, as suggested by Dr. Cauley. In this connection he told the story of the man applying for citizenship in Soviet Russia. "If you had $1,000,000, would you divide it with your neighbors?" the would-be communist was asked. "Certainly," he replied. "If you had 40,000 acres of land, would you divide it also?" "Yes," he answered. "And if you had two pigs, would you divide them with your neighbors?" he was asked. "No," he replied. "I do not believe that the people will accept technocracy as it is presented to us now," Mr. O'Brien said. Councilman J. Frank Beck, president, presided at the meeting.

DE OVIES TO CONDUCT YULETIDE COMMUNION

Dean Raimundo de Ovies will hold the service of holy communion and preach the Christmas morning sermon at St. Philip's cathedral at 11 o'clock Sunday. The junior choir will have its Christmas service at 9:30 in the cathedral.

A mystery pageant, "O, Come,

MRS. MATTIE MORGAN LAID TO LAST REST

Last rites for Mrs. Mattie A. Morgan, 68, who died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Forrest C. Powell, 346 North Highland avenue, were held Thursday afternoon from the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes with Dr. Louis D. Newton and Dr. Ellis A. Fuller officiating. Interment was in Crest Lawn cemetery.

Mrs. Morgan had been in ill health for a number of years and due to her illness she had not been active in church work, although a devoted member of Druid Hills Baptist church. She was a native of Cartersville, but made her home in Atlanta for the last 30 years.

In addition to Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Morgan is survived by three other daughters, Mrs. C. A. Lamkin, Mrs. Robert H. Lamkin and Mrs. R. D. Kelley; one son, C. E. Morgan; two sisters, Mrs. T. J. Lochridge Sr. and Mrs. R. H. Ferguson; two brothers, J. N. Smith, of Doctort, and F. V. Smith, of Cartersville, and five grandchildren, Samuel Morgan, Frances and Alfred Lamkin, Evelyn Powell and Bobby Kelley.

Salvation Army Seeks Toys for Poor Children

An emergency appeal for toys, and especially dolls, was made Thursday by the Community Chest committee in charge of reclaiming and distributing toys to poor children for Christmas. Many needs are unmet, notwithstanding that a steady stream of toys has gone out to the destitute kids, it was said.

Toys should be turned in at the headquarters of the Salvation Army, 54 Ellis street, N. E., today. They will be distributed through the agencies of the Chest.

PROH AGENTS TAP TWO 'PHONE LINES; NAB BOOTLEGGERS

Telephone wiretapping activities on the part of federal prohibition agents resulted Thursday in the arraignment before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffin of two men charged with violating the dry law. The two men, whose cases are not connected, are Robert F. Griffin, of 2251 Fairhaven street, and John W. Burns, alias "Pee Wee" Burns, of 5 Lookout place.

Agents testified before the commissioner that in both instances they had tapped telephone lines, and, working on the tips thus gained, had made a smash at the alleged telephone delivery whisky business, resulting in the arrest of the two men. Griffin was arrested on local call tips, while Burns, they said, was nabbed after a long-distance conversation from Chattanooga was overheard.

The long-distance call also resulted recently in the arrest of Gray K. Windsor and his wife, who are at present under bond. The officers said they searched their car and found whisky after they had left Burns' place en route for Chattanooga. Burns' bond was fixed at $3,000, which he posted, and Griffin was ordered held under $5,000 for the federal grand jury. He also made bond.

TWO BANDITS TAKE $120 BUT RETURN PURSE

Two negroes who held up E. W. Morris, of 215 Merritts avenue, early Thursday morning and took $120 in cash out of his pockets were accounted enough. Morris reported to detectives Thursday forenoon, to return his purse and what papers it contained.
